

The University of Birmingham has a new recruitment programme for faculty positions, Anniversary Fellows and Chairs, with 125 positions foreseen over the next few years. These span the full range of activity at the university, and experimental particle physics applicants are welcome. The first round of applications has a closing date of 30th January 2024. More information is available here:

<https://fellowsandchairs.birmingham.ac.uk/#opportunities-section>

A high level of demand is expected for these positions. Potential ATLAS candidates are asked first to contact Prof Paul Newman (Paul.Newman@cern.ch), as soon as possible, before preparing a full application.